

THE CAIRO DAILY BULLETIN, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1871.

DOORS, SASH, ETC.

—60 TO—

W. W. THORNTON'S,

BUILDERS' SUPPLY DEPOT.

131 TENTH STREET,

CAIRO, ILLINOIS,

Doors, Sash, Blinds, Moldings,

Base Gutters, wood, Window and Door

Frames, Flooring, Lath,

Shingles, Glazed Sash, Glazed Side

Lights, Glazed Transoms,

Sash Weights, Sash Pulleys and Cords,

Blind Fastenings, Roofing

Felt, Roofing Cement, Plastering

Paper, Carpet Felt, White

Lead, Linseed OIL, American Window

Glass, English and French

Plate Glass, Putty, Glazier's Points,

Sewer Pipes Patent Chimneys,

Etc., Etc., Etc.

—

A GIFT for Rock River Paper Company's
Sheeting Felt and Quarts General
H. W. John's Improved Roofing always on hand.

WHOLESALE CRORES.

R. SMYTH & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

O HIO LEVEE,

CAIRO, ILLINOIS.

Also, keep constantly on hand a most complete stock of

LIQUORS:

SCOTCH AND IRISH WHISKIES

—GINS,—

Port, Maderia, Sherry and Catawba Wines

R. SMITH & CO. sell exclusively for cash, to those which invite the especial attention of those bargain buyers.

Special attention given to Filling Orders.

THE BULLETIN.

SATURDAY MORNING, Sept. 30, 1871.

JOHN H. OBERLY, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

TERMS OF THE DAILY BULLETIN:
[Subscription.]

— week, or earlier, $25
one year by carrier, $16.00
one month, by mail, $2.50
Two months, $2.25
3 months, $2.00
4 months, $1.75
5 months, $1.50
6 months, $1.25
1 year, $1.00

The official paper of Alexander county and of the city of Cairo; the only morning daily in Southern Illinois; a wide-circulating journal; small, but forcible; contains all the news of interest to the public; with a large and increasing circulation, the bulletins selecting the patrons of intelligent readers and enterprise business men.

THE DOLLAR WEEKLY BULLETIN.
John H. Oberly & Co. have reduced the subscription price of the weekly Cairo Bulletin to one dollar per annum, making it the cheapest paper published in Southern Illinois.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

For Treasurer and Collector,

WILLIAM MARTIN.

For Surveyor,

JOHN P. HELEY.

ABOUT TWO COLUMNS and a half of the current number of Woodhull & Claffin's Weekly is devoted to historical extracts defensive of the character of Demosthenes. For a future issue, we suggest an obituary of Methuselah as nice, interesting reading.

AS A REWARD for his services in the war for the Union, by which he lost a leg, a soldier of Adams county, and democratic candidate for treasurer, is called a "fame duck" by the radical paper of Quincy, which is about as good a specimen of wit as it is of patriotism.

A REMARKABLE WILL.—One of the most remarkable wills on record is that of Narcisse Pierrot, an eccentric Parisian, who must have been in a very cheerful state of mind when he executed the document. It reads as follows:

"It is my will that any of my relatives who shall presume to shed tears at my funeral shall be disinterred. He on the other hand, who laughs the most freely shall be sole heir. I order that neither the church nor my hearse shall be hung with the hearse and church shall be disinterred of the tolling of the bells. I will have drums, fiddles and fife. All the music of Montgillard and environs shall attend the funeral. Fifty of them shall open the procession with hunting tunes, waltzes and minuets."

A DREADFUL STATE OF AFFAIRS exists in Louisville. According to a late Ledger—

"The species of crime known to the police force and the city court as 'abuse of family,' has grown to be an enormous evil in this city. In the city court nearly every day the sickening details of cruelty that put to the blush the most barbarous savage tribes, are related by the trembling, shrinking victim, who is most always an unwilling witness. The crime is not confined to the degraded dwellers in squalid, sordid tenement-houses, but extends through all classes of society. The aristocratic mansions of the wealthy even are not exempt from scenes of horrible brutality. In this godly city of ours men walk the streets clad in broad-cloth, and to all not versed are models of perfection, and who are regarded as model husbands and Christian gentlemen, who habitually abuse and maltreat the mothers of their children, the beings whom they have sworn to love, honor and obey."

In the absence of laws which can reach and remedy this sad condition of life in Louisville, a society for the prevention of cruelty to wives has been formed in that city. At last accounts it numbered thirty-six gentlemen. "When a man is known to be guilty of whipping his wife," says the Ledger, "a warning notice is to be sent him, and a repetition of the offence will insure him the kind attention of the society."

THE HOUSEWIFE.

Naphtalin is the latest preventive of moths.

LITTLE FROGBY'S BED-BUG RIDDENCE.—Apply kerosene oil—the non-explosive kind—to each bed-bug, with a feather-duster, and set fire to him.

CHOCOLATE CAKE.—One half cup of butter; two cups of sugar; four eggs; one cup of milk; three and one-half cups of flour; two teaspoonsful of cream of tartar; one teaspoonful of soda, and one teaspoonful of vanilla.

PASTE.—One half cup of baker's chocolate; two cups of white sugar; two teaspoonsful of cinnamon; three quarters of a teaspoonful of cloves; a pinch of ginger; three teaspoonsful of vanilla. Keep the chocolate in the oven ten minutes, then add sugar and boil it, then flavor.

TO CLARIFY ISINGLASS.—Cut an ounce and a quarter into small pieces, wash several times in warm, put into a preserving pan with five gills of clear water, boil slowly one fourth away. Remove the scum as it rises, and when done strain through a cloth and away.

TO PRESERVE FLOWERS.—Take a nice clear bottle (cut glass if possible) filled with alcohol. Place the flower or flowers to be preserved in the liquid. After remaining three weeks, pour out the alcohol, which will have extracted all the color, from the flower, and fill it with new. Then seal it up and it will keep for years—the flower looking like wax.

CEMENT.—Pure white lead, or zinc-white ground in oil, and used very thick, is an excellent cement for mending broken crockery ware, but it takes a very long time to harden. It is well to put the mended object in some store-room, and not to look after it for weeks, or even months. It will then be found so firmly united that if ever again broken, it will not part on the former fracture.

RAILWAY NEWS.

IRON MOUNTAIN RAILROAD EXTENSION. [From the Black River (Mo.) News.]

Mr. Axelson, the engineer in charge of the construction corps, arrived in town last night. He tells us that the road is now completed to Danielsville, and that passenger trains will be running to that point in a few days. We learn from him that the roadbed is now completed to Big Spring, some eight miles or more this side of Danielsville, and that it will be ironed in a short time. Mr. Axelson tells us that the work on the whole line down to this place is progressing as fast as he could possibly wish. He also informs us that the contractors on the bridge above town are advancing their work rapidly, and will no doubt have it done fully up to time. Work is now rapidly advancing on every section from Danielsville to Poplar Bluff, a distance of forty miles. The whole line above this point will be finished in a few weeks.

Mr. Axelson tells us that work will commence below town to the state line early next week, and will be pushed rapidly to completion, will be fully completed inside of ten weeks. Take it all together, the work on the Iron Mountain railroad is progressing with unusual rapidity.

We learn from the proper source that work on the Cairo and Fulton railroad of Arkansas is progressing equally as fast, everything considered as on the Iron Mountain railroad. We learn that it is the intention of the company to finish the Cairo and Fulton to the state line by the time the Iron Mountain road reaches that point. The prospect now is that we shall be greeted with the arrival of the iron horse from both those roads at an early day.

ALL SORTS.

"Auntie" said a little three year old one day, "I don't like my aprons tarched so dreful. So much tarchness makes the tiffess trach the bareness."

— Senator Wilson says the London cabmen, as a class, are the most reckless drivers he ever rode after, yet perfectly gentlemanly. After their charges—sixty-two cents an hour by the day, or two miles for a shilling—he says he was frightened when a New York hackman asked him five dollars for carrying him from the wharf to the Astor House.

— A carver's match is to come off in New York. A turkey, a goose and a partridge are to be placed before each of the operators. The winner will carve a stake of $200 in greenbacks after the decision has been rendered.

— Ella, my child," said a prudish old maid to a pretty niece, who would curl her hair in pretty ringlets, "if the Lord had intended your hair to be he would have done it himself." "So did he, aunty, when I was a baby, but he thinks I'm big enough now to do it myself."

— Discretion is the better part of valor. Tom and Arthur have been rude to their mamma. Mamma has complained to papa, who is heard coming up stairs. Arthur—"I say, Tom, here comes papa; I shall pretend to be asleep." Tom—"I shan't; I shall get up and put something on." — Judy.

BISMARCK.

— A RAILROAD RIDE WITH THE GREATEST MAN OF THE AGE.

I bade farewell to my escort at Strasbourg, very ill. At Kiel, a party of gentlemen made an irruption on my privacy, which I did not then know I could have maintained by the bribe of a few kreutzers to the conductor. I asked one of them, a handsome man with a bawdy eye, if he knew enough to change his seat, and let me have a compartment to myself, so that I could lie down, telling him that I was too ill to hold up my head. He gave me a look of blank astonishment, but complied. I had nothing to do but to listen to the conversation, which was in French, but out of compliment to a Franchman among them. They were very intelligent men. They asked me what I thought of Bismarck, who is the most free-spirited and most impudent man in Europe. No twenty-eight, composed of the most valiant men in the matter, tune up the system, arrest the diehards, and make a glorious victory, and vitality to the entire mass. They had seen thousands of cases. Price, $5 per person, including a carriage, a viatic, and a box. It is important to obtain all drugs, and send a box of price. Address: Dr. Humphrey Spears, Homeopathic Medicine Co., Broad Street, P. O., Agent, Cairo, Illinois.

— In the Elgin watch factories 300 of the 500 hundred employees are girls. These girls earn $10 to $20 a week, and perform the delicate operations incident to the business more skillfully than men.

— Silver coffin trimmings are hired out for private funerals in Lewiston, Maine, to be returned after the ceremonies.

— NERVOUS DEBILITY.

With its gloomy attendants, low spirits, depression, voluntary emaciation, loss of power, drowsiness, loss of memory, and threatened impotence and imbecility, and a terrible curse in Bismarck, a nervous debility.

— Twenty-eight, composed of the most valiant men in the matter, tune up the system, arrest the diehards, and make a glorious victory, and vitality to the entire mass. They had seen thousands of cases. Price, $5 per person, including a carriage, a viatic, and a box. It is important to obtain all drugs, and send a box of price. Address: Dr. Humphrey Spears, Homeopathic Medicine Co., Broad Street, P. O., Agent, Cairo, Illinois.

vriage for my convenience.—[A Week on the Bergstrasse, Lippincott's Magazine for October.]

THE FACULTY PUZZLED.—A few weeks ago a girl, fifteen years of age, came to her death in the most singular and painful manner, at Canandaigua, New York. She was ill about six weeks before her decease. At first she complained of pains in the chest and stomach, and hard lump began to show themselves from the inside, feeling very much like protruding bones.

She became weaker day by day, suffering great agony, and for some days previous to her final dissolution she could rest in no other posture than by placing herself on her hands and knees upon the floor. A post mortem examination disclosed a frightful state of affairs, for there were several large tumors taken from her, some of them weighing over a pound apiece, and her liver was enlarged so as to weigh four and a half pounds. The physicians are completely puzzled over the affair, as they had never before witnessed nor heard of such a state of disease.

THE RADICAL WAY.—(From the State Register.)

The notorious collector, Joshua F. Bailey, became a defaulter to the government to the amount, it is said, of $1,162,000, and fled the country. In the list of his bondsmen appear the names of Geo. Opdyke, treasurer of the republican state committee of New York, and Henry Clews, the English-American banker, who has recently been made financial agent of the United States in Europe. These men and their associates are bound, then, to pay over to the national treasury $1,162,000. And yet, it seems, Bailey's accounts remain unsettled, and his bondsmen are not prosecuted! The people are desirous to know whether the treasury is to be molested of this large sum because these bondsmen are prominent in the administration councils.

EDWARD T. SAWYER has arrived in this city, "says a late Paris letter," and for the past few days has been 'doing' the ruins of Paris. A reception was to have been given last night at the house of Bowles Brothers, but late in the day we received notice that the reception was postponed, as Mr. Sawyer dined with M. Thiers. It will take place on Saturday. On Tuesday Mr. Sawyer was in the diplomatic gallery of the Assembly. Near him was the Nonce of the Pope, and, unfortunately, close to him Mme. Ratza. The Nonce fairly turned his back to the lady. Presently she left her seat for some cause, and the Nonce promptly took it, thus forcing her to a seat at a proper distance from his Sacredness. It was not gallant to say the least.

EDWARD T. SAWYER has arrived in this city, "says a late Paris letter," and for the past few days has been 'doing' the ruins of Paris. A reception was to have been given last night at the house of Bowles Brothers, but late in the day we received notice that the reception was postponed, as Mr. Sawyer dined with M. Thiers. It will take place on Saturday. On Tuesday Mr. Sawyer was in the diplomatic gallery of the Assembly. Near him was the Nonce of the Pope, and, unfortunately, close to him Mme. Ratza. The Nonce fairly turned his back to the lady. Presently she left her seat for some cause, and the Nonce promptly took it, thus forcing her to a seat at a proper distance from his Sacredness. It was not gallant to say the least.

EDWARD T. SAWYER has arrived in this city, "says a late Paris letter," and for the past few days has been 'doing' the ruins of Paris. A reception was to have been given last night at the house of Bowles Brothers, but late in the day we received notice that the reception was postponed, as Mr. Sawyer dined with M. Thiers. It will take place on Saturday. On Tuesday Mr. Sawyer was in the diplomatic gallery of the Assembly. Near him was the Nonce of the Pope, and, unfortunately, close to him Mme. Ratza. The Nonce fairly turned his back to the lady. Presently she left her seat for some cause, and the Nonce promptly took it, thus forcing her to a seat at a proper distance from his Sacredness. It was not gallant to say the least.

EDWARD T. SAWYER has arrived in this city, "says a late Paris letter," and for the past few days has been 'doing' the ruins of Paris. A reception was to have been given last night at the house of Bowles Brothers, but late in the day we received notice that the reception was postponed, as Mr. Sawyer dined with M. Thiers. It will take place on Saturday. On Tuesday Mr. Sawyer was in the diplomatic gallery of the Assembly. Near him was the Nonce of the Pope, and, unfortunately, close to him Mme. Ratza. The Nonce fairly turned his back to the lady. Presently she left her seat for some cause, and the Nonce promptly took it, thus forcing her to a seat at a proper distance from his Sacredness. It was not gallant to say the least.

EDWARD T. SAWYER has arrived in this city, "says a late Paris letter," and for the past few days has been 'doing' the ruins of Paris. A reception was to have been given last night at the house of Bowles Brothers, but late in the day we received notice that the reception was postponed, as Mr. Sawyer dined with M. Thiers. It will take place on Saturday. On Tuesday Mr. Sawyer was in the diplomatic gallery of the Assembly. Near him was the Nonce of the Pope, and, unfortunately, close to him Mme. Ratza. The Nonce fairly turned his back to the lady. Presently she left her seat for some cause, and the Nonce promptly took it, thus forcing her to a seat at a proper distance from his Sacredness. It was not gallant to say the least.

EDWARD T. SAWYER has arrived in this city, "says a late Paris letter," and for the past few days has been 'doing' the ruins of Paris. A reception was to have been given last night at the house of Bowles Brothers, but late in the day we received notice that the reception was postponed, as Mr. Sawyer dined with M. Thiers. It will take place on Saturday. On Tuesday Mr. Sawyer was in the diplomatic gallery of the Assembly. Near him was the Nonce of the Pope, and, unfortunately, close to him Mme. Ratza. The Nonce fairly turned his back to the lady. Presently she left her seat for some cause, and the Nonce promptly took it, thus forcing her to a seat at a proper distance from his Sacredness. It was not gallant to say the least.

EDWARD T. SAWYER has arrived in this city, "says a late Paris letter," and for the past few days has been 'doing' the ruins of Paris. A reception was to have been given last night at the house of Bowles Brothers, but late in the day we received notice that the reception was postponed, as Mr. Sawyer dined with M. Thiers. It will take place on Saturday. On Tuesday Mr. Sawyer was in the diplomatic gallery of the Assembly. Near him was the Nonce of the Pope, and, unfortunately, close to him Mme. Ratza. The Nonce fairly turned his back to the lady. Presently she left her seat for some cause, and the Nonce promptly took it, thus forcing her to a seat at a proper distance from his Sacredness. It was not gallant to say the least.

EDWARD T. SAWYER has arrived in this city, "says a late Paris letter," and for the past few days has been 'doing' the ruins of Paris. A reception was to have been given last night at the house of Bowles Brothers, but late in the day we received notice that the reception was postponed, as Mr. Sawyer dined with M. Thiers. It will take place on Saturday. On Tuesday Mr. Sawyer was in